Summary

I'm Damodhar Zanwar, a BCA graduate from Sanjay Ghodawat University, passionate about building intelligent, scalable, and user-focused tech solutions. My journey started with web development and Python, evolved through cloud architecture, and now thrives in the world of AI and machine learning.

I love creating impactful digital products that blend AI with full-stack development to simplify lives and solve real-world problems. Always open to collaborating, innovating, and exploring new possibilities in AI-driven software development.

Experience

Skillolite

Full Stack Developer and AI Intern

March 2025 - July 2025 (5 months)

Guwahati, Assam, India

Next24tech Technology & Services

Student Intern

July 2024 - September 2024 (3 months)

Nagpur, Maharashtra, India

During my internship at Next24tech, I worked on three key projects that enhanced my web development skills:

• Personal Portfolio: Designed and developed a visually appealing, fully responsive website to showcase my skills, experience, and projects.

• Ecommerce Website: Implemented features such as product listings, shopping cart functionality, and integrated secure payment systems.

• eLearning Platform: Developed interactive course modules and integrated user authentication to enhance the learning experience.

Throughout these projects, I gained hands-on experience in responsive design, back-end integration, and optimizing user experience for diverse platforms.
